MARCH NEWS AND UPDATES!

Welcome to March!

This month we visited the Alternative Provision Convention and were pleased to confirm that we meet, and exceed, the DfE's Voluntary AP Standards, meaning parents with EHCPs or personal budgets can commission us directly.

We're also excited to share that we're now approved as both a paper-based and online exam centre, and the team are completing training to become exam markers.

At the end of the month Maria will be travelling across China you can follow her journey on our Facebook and Instagram pages!

Paper based exam centre!

We are excited to announce that we are now approved to operate as both a paper-based and online exam centre. The team are currently training as exam markers,

This will allow us to give students greater flexibility ensuring we assess and support them with greater expertise.

A Visit to the Alternative Provision Convention

This month we had the opportunity to visit the Alternative Provision Convention, a really valuable chance to learn more about national priorities and best practice across the sector. A key focus of the discussion was the DfE's Voluntary Alternative Provision Standards, introduced in September 2025.

The visit was a great moment for reflection and reassurance. It confirmed that our approach already meets, and in many areas exceeds, these national standards. The policies, processes, and culture we have in place align strongly with the expectations set out by the DfE, reinforcing the quality and safety of the support we offer.

It was also a helpful reminder for families that parents of children with EHCPs or personal budgets are able to commission us directly to deliver part or all of their child's provision. This flexibility means families can choose a specialist, personalised environment that genuinely meets their child's needs and helps them thrive.

If you'd like to learn more about how we work with parents, or how our provision can be accessed, please get in contact with us.

Maria will be travelling across China later this month and she will be sharing it all for you to see.

Have a fab time Maria!
