MAY NEWS AND UPDATES!

Welcome to May!

The last couple of months have been busy and exciting here at Maria's Tutoring Services!

Maria has returned from her travels across China, including a rather nerve-wracking walk across a glass bridge (completed twice, and very quickly!).

Exams season is well underway with several functional skills exams booked and already under way. Portfolio-based qualifications are also heading towards submission, and we have some exciting news about a new partnership with a home-ed provider offering catering qualifications.

Exams are here!

It has been a big month for assessments! Several functional skills exams are booked over the coming weeks, with the first already sat this month.

Alongside this, some of our portfolio-based qualifications are now at the submission stage. Students have been working incredibly hard across the board, and we are so proud of their dedication and commitment.

Maria's China Adventure!

Maria has been sharing her travels across China on our Facebook and Instagram pages, thank you to everyone who followed along!

Highlights included a visit to the iconic Forbidden City, a Panda Conservation centre, and a 3 day cruise along the Yangtze River.

She also travelled from Beijing to Xi'an by bullet train, a journey that would take 15 hours overnight by conventional train, but just 4 hours on the bullet train!

One memorable moment was being given absolutely no choice but to walk the full length of a glass bridge, all 500 metres of it, and then back again. She did it very quickly and without looking down! We hope you enjoy the photos.

New Partnership - Catering Qualifications.

We are pleased to share that we have been in talks with another home-ed provider, who will be offering catering qualifications.
